

Easter Letter from Rev. Dr. Anthony T. Podavano
Pastor of the Inclusive Community

Easter 2006

Dear Friends

Perhaps the greatest sign of hope human history gives us is the Easter life of Jesus. Easter is not only an article of faith for all Christians but a lived experience as well. Easter is meant to be a Christian way of saying that death is not as strong as love and that life always prevails.

The Inclusive Community is an Easter sacrament, a testimony to all who see it that Christians need not be divided and that all our divisions are healed in the communion of the broken bread and the wine poured out in a blessing.

This Easter season we invite you to be with us by your presence and your love, in your encouragement and sacrifice as we celebrate one more time the moving events of Holy Week.

Easter happened not only because Jesus lived again but because he had a community to receive him in faith and celebration. We strive to become such a community transcending all divisions and exclusions.

May the Easter spirit fill your homes and hearts with peace and love.

Sincerely,
Anthony
